

SMAA - WILD CLOVER NINE BRAVE MEN WITH THERE FLYING MACHINES

12 MARCH

“ FOR THE VERY FIRST TIME THE CAPE TOWN CYCLE TOUR WAS CANCELLED DUE TO EXTREME STRONG WINDS ”

AS THE CAPE WAS BEING BATTERED BY EXTRA STRONG WINDS, CAPE POINT RECORDED 90+KM, WILD CLOVER WAS 30+ BUT THAT DIDN'T STOP THE PATTERN PILOTS.

Sportsman pilots Jack, Andre and Jacques completed all three rounds, although jack had a couple of very heavy landings, Andre just couldn't handle the wind or pressure and Jacques as calm as ever managed some great flying to win all three rounds and the class.

Advanced class had three pilots in the sky battling the conditions. Pilot/Judge Jacques Botha battled between himself and Claude in each round to end second and third. Cobus was in a league of his own wining each round and the class.

Masters round two winner, Marc Wolffe was once again showing why he did fly for SA at the World Champs a few years ago with straight and smooth flying to win the class ahead of Rodney and Gerhard. The battle for second and third was close but Rodney just had the upper hand.

After the competition a few of us stayed for Pulled Pork and a beer or two, what a way to spend a Wild and Windy Sunday. Flying in a competition, having lunch and a beer with friends and being able to get home without road closures.

A big thanks to Nic and his team for a superb runway considering the lack of rain and to the Judges for giving up there Sunday once again.
